Dear Mrs. Cecilia Ibru

EXIT OF THE BUILDER OF MODERN NIGERIAN ENTERPRISE
A TRIBUTE TO MICHAEL CHRISTOPHER ONAJIRHEVBE IBRU

'When beggars die
there are no comets seen Heavens themselves blaze forth
the death of Princes' William Shakespeares

As it is with all mortals, the Patriarch of the 21st century Ibru dynasty has finally taken a bow out of the stage of life.

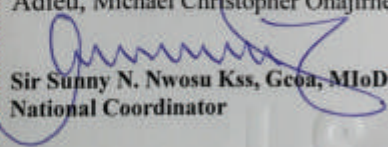

Olorogun Michael Ibru rose with the spirit of determination to birth one of the greatest indigenous but highly diversified business conglomerates. His giant footsteps are firmly imprinted in foods and agriculture, tourism & hospitality, oil and gas, banking, insurance, shipping, breweries, academia, aviation, real estate and so on.

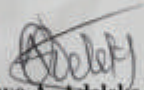

A family man par excellence, Olorogun provided a strong financial and emotional platform that launched all the Ibru brothers in their various fields of endeavours. He served as a role model in his foray to spiritual and political terrains thus earning the Ibru family a place of pride in Nigerian history.

As for us in Independent Shareholders Association of Nigeria, we would surely miss this humble enigma who can rightly be described as the builder of indigenous conglomerate and indeed modern Nigerian Enterprise. His exit at a time when the economy of the nation is passing through the eclipse of recession signifies the end of an era.

Our sincere heartfelt condolences to the entire Ibru family, friends and associates.

Adieu, Michael Christopher Onajirhevbe Ibru.
